Voters pass millage, pick Berlinn, Patterson

By STEVE O'LEARY
ANP Staff Writer

Romulus voters came out in higher than usual numbers Monday and gave a strong show of support for the children of the city, passing two separate millages totaling a 7.5-mill increase that will, among other things, reinstate sixth hour classes at Romulus High School.

The 6-mill operating increase was voted in 1,510 to 1,434, passing by a slim 66 votes. The 1.5 maintenance hike, most of which will go to repair the badly damaged roofs of some of the city's schools, passed more comfortably, with 1,583 yes votes outdistancing the 1,383 nays.

"No doubt about it, Mayor McAnally's warm endorsement was a vital factor."

—Jerry DeHarnais

Jerry DeHarnais, who worked with the Romulus Board of Education on the millage issues, called it "an excellent election. It involved the cooperation of at least 500 citizens over a four-month period, helping us get the word out about how bad we needed this."

DeHarnais, also credited Romulus Mayor Beverly McAnally, who was firm in her endorsement of the millage, a position many politicians seem afraid to take, fearing the wrath of anti-millage voters.

"No doubt about it, Mayor McAnally's warm endorsement was a vital factor in our getting it (millage) passed," said DeHarnais. "Her presence, along with the council members who backed us was really an inspiration."

There was an upset of sorts in the six-man race for the two available seats on the school board, as Pat Patterson, a newcomer to the board, outdistanced the two incumbents by nearly 300 votes, ousting Richard Campbell from the seat he has held for the past four years.

SCHOOL ELECTION RESULTS (UNOFFICIAL)

6 mill operating increase yes 1510, no 1434
1.5 mill maintenance increase yes 1583, no 1383

SCHOOL BOARD (TWO FOUR-YEAR TERMS)

Pat Patterson 1286
Kenneth Berlinn 995
Richard Campbell 947
J. Gordon Schelcher 659
Henry Nolen 654
Jack Bath 422

Incumbent Kenneth Berlinn came in second to Patterson's 1,286 votes with 995, Campbell finished with a close 947.

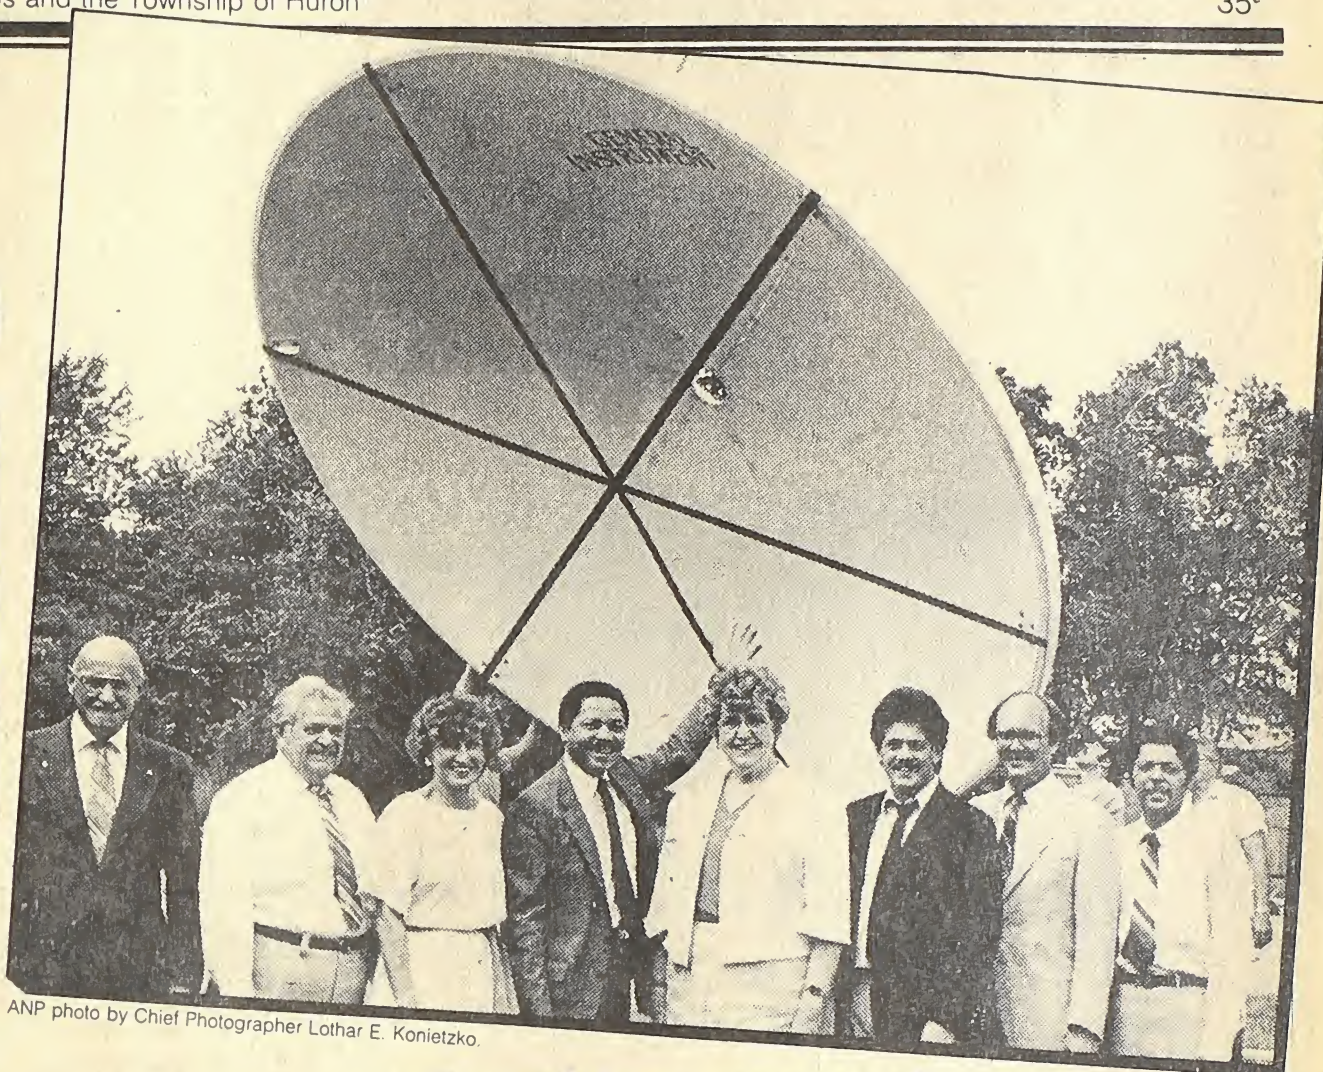

Patterson won 11 of the city's 10 precincts, tying for yet another. His strongest showing was in his home district, Gordonier, where he gathered 147 votes, 16 more than the total of his five competitors.

In Huron Township, where two seats were up for grabs, incumbent Gary Tobin kept his board seat for another four years while John Cady won the seat vacated by Larry O'Kelley, who did not run for re-election. There was no millage issue at stake in Huron Township.

School Superintendent Dr. William Bedell said "Of course we're delighted, but the really good news, the really heartening thing is that the people showed they cared enough about the kids to go past the economic hardships that we're suffering through to do it."

Similar millage requests had been turned down three times in the past year, but Bedell assured that "we'll be extremely careful with the money. All of the things we promised would get done definitely will get done."

Breaking ground

It was a long wait, but construction is finally underway for Barden Cablevision of Romulus. At groundbreaking ceremonies last Friday, a satellite dish and the tower were put up. According to Mayor Beverly McAnally, Barden plans to start laying cable in the Huron Estates subdivision soon, and will have that section wired by the end of the month. "We are very encouraged and hope the progress continues now that things are moving along," said McAnally. Pictured are John Lewkowicz, treasurer (from left); Ray Leporati, vice-president, Barden Cable; Mary Ann Banks, mayor pro tem; Don Barden; Mayor McAnally; councilmen Alan Lambert and Noah Bergeron, and John Barden, regional business and operations manager.

5 vie for nominations in 37th District

By STEVE O'LEARY
ANP Staff Writer

Five candidates — three Democrats and two Republicans — have filed to run for the position of state representative of the 37th District in the Aug. 7 primary election.

The seat will be up for grabs, since the current elective, Edward Mahalak (D-Romulus) has announced he will not seek re-election for health reasons. Mahalak suffered a heart attack earlier this year.

The 37th District includes Romulus, Wayne, Belleville, Van Buren Township and a portion of Canton Township.

A ROUNDUP OF THE CANDIDATES:

Kosteva, current planning director for Canton Township, cites his 10 years of local government experience as "sound preparation for the legislation. We need a new perspective of leadership, one which has experienced the issues that people face on a day-to-day basis."

Recently, Kosteva has been serving on the Wayne County Solid Waste Planning Committee, where he has been advocating a move away from landfills and towards alternative methods for removal of waste, such as resource recovery and recycling.

Pat Cullin is a former supervisor of Van Buren Township. In 1982, after six years in office, she was recalled along with the other Democratic board members. Prior to serving the township as supervisor, Cullin served four years as clerk and was a trustee for two years.

According to Cullin, there really aren't any issues yet; that will come after the primary race, when the two political factions square off. She does, however, say that while she is not in favor of landfills, there needs to be more viable testing done on the effects to the air by incineration and other alternative methods to landfills.

"Given a choice, I'd rather walk on it (waste) than breathe it," she said.

John Sheridan, a resident of Romulus, has a family tradition of politics behind him. His father, Al, was a state representative for the City of Taylor for 18 years.

"I feel that it's time for a change in this district," said Sheridan, "I'm familiar with the politics that go on in Lansing not only through my years there with my father, but also through working with other reps and senators. I keep myself very active through my contacts in Lansing, and I believe I can do things that will benefit the residents of the 37th District."

Theodore Jacques of Romulus says he has decided to seek the office "Because I still believe that one person can make a difference." The 38-year-old candidate claims he is "not satisfied" with the present leadership in the Michigan House.

"After 30 years of working with my hands, raising a family and paying taxes I consider myself an average American and I believe that's what we need more of," Jacques said.

Georgia Gramlich of Van Buren Township attended both Wayne State and Eastern Michigan universities, and currently is degreed to tutor handicapped children. She is active in environmental affairs and has shown a very strong concern regarding landfills and toxic dumpsites.

She is a member of the board of directors for the Southern Michigan Environmental Alliance and also belongs to the Michigan Toxic Dumpsite Coalition. She advocates a part-time legislature to keep a lid on state spending.

The primary election, which will narrow the field to two, will be held on Tuesday, Aug. 7. The election proper will be Nov. 6.

In search of Do you know William Davis?

By STEVE O'LEARY
ANP Staff Writer

Does anyone know a former marine named William E. Davis?

Surely someone does.

It was with that hope that 50-year-old Ed Wagner of Cohoes, New York, contacted Romulus City Hall.

In 1949, on the island of Okinawa, Wagner noticed some dogtags lying on the side of a road, near the former Japanese Airstrip of Machinato. He picked them up and put them in his pocket, thinking to return them later, if he could.

"I've been meaning to try and make contact with him for over 30 years," said Wagner, who has never met nor spoke to the man he is seeking, "but for one reason or another I always seemed to put it off or forget about it."

"Recently, I just made up my mind to go all out and try to locate him to return his tags," said Wagner from his home in suburban New York state.

Letters to various branches of the United States military brought the news that Davis, a marine, was wounded on Guam and his address was Romulus, Michigan. But that was in 1944. No one seems to know anything else about him.

"I've been meaning to try and make contact with him for over 30 years, but for one reason or another I always seemed to put it off or forget about it."

—Ed Wagner

Allen Dennett, a Records Technician at Romulus City Hall, has combed the city's birth and death records, and past and present voter registration records in hopes of putting an end to Wagner's search. But so far it has been futile.

"I've even gone so far as to call some of the Davis' in the phone book," said Dennett. "But I wasn't able to come up with anything."

Wagner, who served four years in the army, says that the area in which he found the dogtags was "a hotbed of heavy fighting." He hopes that Davis is still alive.

"I imagine the man is around 60 years old by now," Davis stated.

When asked why he is trying so hard to return a piece of metal to a man he has never met, Wagner said he isn't really sure. "If it were me, I know I'd sure appreciate it and be glad to get them back."

The dogtags read:

Davis, William E.
531943-P
Type A
T10-26-43
USMCR

Anyone with information regarding Davis should call, Allen Dennett at city hall, or the Romulus Roman.

I'd sure like to get in touch with him," Wagner repeated, "not only to return his tags to him, but maybe to talk."

Three RHS students to attend Boy's State

Three outstanding Romulus Senior High School students have been selected to attend the 47th annual American Legion Boys' State Program. The program is to be held on the campus of Michigan State University in East Lansing from June 13-19.

Attending will be 1,000 boys representing the best in Michigan youth.

The three recipients this year each received scholarships valued at $150. The winners are Sean Conrad, sponsored by the Romulus Rotary Club; Jeff Barks, sponsored by the Romulus Kiwanis Club; and Bobby Blanton, sponsored by the Romulus Progressive Club.

All are completing the 11th grade at Romulus Senior High School, and will be returning as seniors to share their Boys' State experience with their classmates next year.

The Boys' State Program duplicates the very process by which the government in Michigan and in Washington, D.C., operates. Each young man attending will learn from first-hand experience how to work within a political party, run for office, achieve legislative goals, evaluate social questions and work for the common good. Aside from this practical learning experience, each boy learns the priceless lesson of team participation while maintaining his own individuality.

The ultimate learning experience derived from this program is that each boy leaves with a thorough and working knowledge of how our American system of government can effect change, implement ideas into law, and benefit society as a whole. There is no need for any of America's youth to feel alienated from our society, because there is a need to involve them in the continuing success of America, sponsors say.

Whether the boys attending become directly involved in the actual political process in later life or not, each one of them will join the American scene knowing that anything for the common good is achievable in our system. Perhaps, more importantly, they will each know how to achieve that common good through a peaceful and orderly process.

John Domas, Rotary Representative and Romulus High School counselor, has issued a thank you to the following people for their help, support and assistance in making it possible to send so many well qualified and deserving students to Boys' State: E. L. Sheffield, Romulus High School principal; Mae Jackson, William Knight, and Al Wilkerson, Romulus High School counselors; Gerald Nault, Romulus Progressive Club; David Ferdon, Romulus Kiwanis Club; Susan Vogel, Dennis Stoh, Henry James, and Michael Zaher, all Romulus High School teachers; and Bonnie Bossidis, Guidance Office secretary.

A surplus fire engine, valued at $250,000, has been transferred from the former fire department at Wayne County General Hospital-Eloise in Westland to the fire department at Detroit Metropolitan Airport in Romulus. The 100-foot aerial ladder truck was donated to the airport for $1. The fire truck is capable of reaching the tallest building at the airport, far higher than other airport fire equipment which can reach only 24 feet. On hand to accept the donation was Airport Fire Chief Robert Bears, acting airport manager Tim Ward and Wayne County Executive William Lucas.

Sterlini owes explanation

Much has been said and written recently concerning the conduct of Canton Township Treasurer Maria Sterlini.

On a medical leave of absence from office, Sterlini raised a few eyebrows in township hall by leaving on an unannounced trip to Athens, Greece last month. The trip marked the latest in a series of unexplained actions that have occurred since Sterlini began her leave on "the advice of her physician."

Confused by her erratic behavior, Canton trustees have considered censuring the treasurer for her failure to meet legislative duties. The only consistency, in fact, has come in the collection of her paycheck from the township and its taxpayers.

Sterlini's medical problems are personal and should remain a private concern. Her refusal to abide by the procedures and guidelines established for employees on leave is a very public issue.

Since leaving her office, Sterlini has failed to produce a letter from a physician and refused to fill out and submit disability forms to the township. She has retained her township vehicle and workers in the treasurer's office were unaware of her trip abroad, a customary courtesy.

Why has Sterlini remained incommunicado? Has her doctor ordered her to disregard township procedures?

For whatever reason, Sterlini has decided to keep everyone guessing. She apparently has forgotten just who her employer is: the taxpayers of Canton Township. And they have a right to know why she has not produced the necessary paperwork regarding her medical leave.

Although she has not filed for reelection, Sterlini still remains accountable to the people. For that reason she owes an explanation for her behavior — not a detailed description of her medical problem but a statement on the thinking behind her refusal to fill out the insurance forms and the trip to Greece.

Sterlini is not employed by a private corporation. If she were, her benefits most likely would have been severed for failure to comply with corporate regulations. Without an explanation, we have no choice but to believe that she has something to hide.

In our opinion, Sterlini must either comply with normal procedures or resign from office immediately. To do otherwise would be a slap in the face of every taxpayer in Canton Township.

Go Belleville Tigers!

Here's another Tiger tribute...

No, not to the celebrated and miracle-making Detroit Tigers, but to our very own Belleville High Tigers. Just like their counter-parts and namesakes in the professional ranks the Tigers are on the verge of making history.

Our girls from Belleville can become the first high school softball team ever to capture the Class A softball championship two consecutive years.

Coach Peggy Curtis and assistant Coach Nancy Wisniewski have a lot on their minds as they prepare their team for the state semi-finals, scheduled for Friday at Midland against Bay City, and hopefully for the state championship which will be decided at the same site only on Saturday against the winner of the Portage Northern and Mt. Clemens L'Anse Creuse game.

To reach the state semi-finals in any sport is a credit to the athletes and to the coaching staff, but to make it two years in a row is incredible. The feat demands discipline and sacrifice. Belleville's players have paid their dues.

Throughout the season, Coach Curtis and her Tigers have been put under constant pressure "to do it again." And, midway through the year it appeared that this team would collapse from the strains. They came through convincingly, winning not only the newly-organized Wolverine "A" Conference championship but repeating as Class A District and Regional champs.

Unfortunately, whenever a team produces titles it only whets the appetite of their fans for more and more championships. It helps to know there are a lot of rational fans who have and do appreciate what those girls have accomplished.

It also helps to know that this team "has surprised the dickens out of everyone."

And if the Tigers could only pull out two more surprises, it would be just fine with all of us in these parts who will be rootin' and pullin' for them this weekend.

It appears that there's only one thing left for us to say:

"Go get 'em Tigers."

Another column about advertising

DAVID J. WILLETT
PUBLISHER

Advertising is truly an investment... an investment on which one should expect a return. More than that, however, the investor should establish goals and objectives of the advertising campaign and be aware of the cost/benefit ratio.

I have long held the belief that, "If it works, don't knock it." What I have trouble with are people professing that things work when in fact they actually work poorly, if at all. Success is proclaimed in order to support their decision to have spent money in a given way. Does an agency want to tell a client that they have wasted their money? No! They rationalize their failure to perform and tell the client that everything is "perfect." They proclaim, "This is what we were hoping for. No immediate response, but a slow, steady growth in product awareness." This is somewhat akin to rewriting history.

Advertising agencies have been favoring broadcast media for a number of years. They do so because the dollar benefit to them is significantly greater than with print. In print, agencies can mark up the local rate... period. In broadcast, the pluses are endless. There are residuals every time a commercial is aired. There is a mark up on talent fees, there is "creative time" and very often there is the "show biz" aspect which includes the fun and excitement of travel to new locations to shoot the commercial.

There are other aspects of the broadcast phenomenon. Radio and television have developed their own language and have successfully created a unique type of "orange" in a media world that formerly spoke only in "apples." Gross rating points, cumes and the like are terms used by those selling broadcast to cloud the issues and to distract everyone from the facts of life. Those facts remain clear: Very few people are listening to a particular radio or television station at a given time of day. When they do happen to be listening to a commercial, keep in mind that commercial is, by and large, a distraction from the reason the audience is listening or watching.

Very little information can be transmitted in a 15- or 30-second commercial these days. The media tends to be more entertaining than informative and does not effect a very high cost benefit ratio. Broadcast people speak of "image." They talk of product awareness, they dazzle advertisers with demographics and psychographics describing the way they pile up gross rating points with the 18- to 35-year-old crowd, which is, they point out, the prime prospect for certain products or services.

They make no promise as to when an ad is going to run, unless of course the client wants to pay significantly more. The poor customer whose advertisement hits the airwaves at 3 a.m. has no control.

There are so many radio stations and television channels, the probability, by broadcasters own numbers, of any prospect listening to that commercial, on that station, at that time, and responding is unbelievably small. It is, of course, understood that the prospect had to be listening to the station and not just playing the radio in the home, office or car for background noise.

Few of the primary prospects for any product or service are sitting, doing nothing. Not in the fast-paced society of today which usually includes two-income producers who are both on the run. All of the smoke that agencies blow at clients, with the help of broadcast media, is dazzling. But, by and large, not traceable to specific sales. The interesting thing is that advertisers buy it.

Broadcast advertising does not work? No, I'm not saying that. I might suggest, however, that of the 50 percent of all advertising dollars that are wasted, broadcast is wasting far more than their share. Dollars spent in broadcast are a far greater proportion of the waste than newspapers or other print mediums.

On the other hand, advertisers tend to suggest that a newspaper should "run one ad" with a coupon in it, and if there is not a rush to the door, then of course the conclusion is obvious. No one reads the newspapers, or no one reads this newspaper, or advertising in this newspaper is a waste of money, or coupons do not work in this newspaper.

Agencies make a good share of their money in creative services. They put together some very effective broadcast and print ads. Campaigns are well thought out, and designed to have maximum impact on the psyche of the potential buyers of a given product or service. For some reason, local advertisers feel that "type" on a piece of paper is good enough. Quite the contrary is true.

An ad campaign in a weekly newspaper, just as much as a Coca-Cola campaign on national television, should be given forethought, be designed to have impact and to achieve specific goals. As the saying goes, "If you don't know where you're going, any road will take you there." In advertising, if you don't know what you are trying to accomplish with a particular ad, you'll definitely end up somewhere — the question is, where?

It can be anywhere you want to be. As an example, do you want to focus one quarter-page ad on one high-traffic item and make reference to a myriad of other products and services in such a persuasive choice of words, it would stimulate customers to want to come to your business location to see for themselves? The high-traffic item may, in fact, require a coupon, but that is of little importance as long as the offer is only made in one particular medium. That in itself is an ineffective measure. How can we, as a civilized society, eradicate the drunk driving problem?

Prohibit the sale of alcohol? Hardly. Establish sobriety checklanes? A costly and ineffective gesture. Tougher laws? Yes, but in itself not the answer. Increased police patrols? Again, only a partial solution.

The key to turning this situation around starts with public awareness. Groups such as Mothers Against Drunk Driving (MADD) must continue working with police agencies and the media to keep the drunk driving crisis before the citizenry.

We must publicize the cold statistics—708 lives lost in Michigan last year alone due to drunk driving, not counting injuries. A total of 53 percent of all fatal accidents last year in the state caused as a result of booze.

But cold numbers only tell a minute story. They can't reveal the trauma, heartache and helplessness that accompany a tragedy. Only human beings can effectively tell that story.

For years the problem was ignored. Drunk driving was a phenomenon that happened to the other guy, the other child, the other woman, the other teenager . . .

Anne Miller, our cable television programmer, is an injury statistic of a drunk driving incident. Her experience adds the human element to the issue.

If her recollection of a tragic evening changes even one person's attitude about drinking and driving, it will rate as a priceless piece of journalism. And we will be one step closer to maintaining a safer highway.

Thanks, Anne, for sharing the following with us:

"It's 9:46, do you know where your children are . . ."

It took me 20 years to go back there. I'd get in the car with every intention of going. When I finally did go back, it was gone. As if it had never existed.

August 4, 1959. This night was a scorcher. There were six of us. The 17-year-old had a driver's license, and daddy's car. How many times had we been told to stay away from the quarry? And where did the beer come from?

Drinking and driving

The driver thought it would be funny to scare the girls by driving very fast with the headlights turned off. I was in the front seat. The road he picked was a gravel road but what none of us knew was that this road dead-ended at a very large tree.

When he flipped the lights back on, we were about 15 feet from the tree. I was laughing at the time, and in that split second, I wondered what those marks were on the tree. It all happened too quickly for anything like fear.

It had begun to rain, which was fortunate, because the entire area had been sprayed with gasoline. I couldn't open my eyes, but the light was funny, flashes of red, strange noises. I wasn't awake, but I wasn't asleep. I felt nothing. Footsteps, and a voice saying, "No need to hurry with this one, she's dead too." The pain started when they tried to pick me up, scrape me up was more to the point.

They say he was going 60 miles an hour when we hit the tree. Three were dead and the driver broke his wrist, virtually walking away without a scratch. The impact literally exploded the boy sitting next to me, and I was splattered with his brain tissue. That, coupled with the severity of my injuries, led them to believe I was also dead.

It took seven years of plastic surgery to put my face back together; skin grafts, reconstructive surgery. There was a possibility I'd never walk again, but with a steel rod in one leg, and a new hip socket in the other, there's only a slight limp when it's cold and damp.

The fear is now, the nightmares, the cold sweats at 4 a.m., when I relive it all in dreams, more real than when it actually happened. I see that tree again. I know what those marks on it meant. Some were made by a 1957 Chevrolet convertible that was sliced into two separate pieces by the impact.

I don't know exactly when they removed that tree, but I can't help wondering how many more marks were on it before it finally came down. It crosses my mind on hot summer nights, when I see the kids go by, carloads of them in convertibles . . . drinking beer.

"Whatever time of night it is, do you know where your children are?"

Search for tokens

To the Editor:

I am a lover of history and I have a somewhat unusual hobby. I collect old tokens used by stores, barber shops, Indian Traders, saloons, forts, and other businesses years ago.

The tokens were "good for" $1, 50., 25, 12½, or such in trade or merchandise or "good for" a loaf of bread, one drink, one shave, one ride or whatever. They were usually made of metal, and while having the general appearance of a coin, they were made in all shapes and sizes with some even picturing buildings, animals, etc.

I have reason to believe that some of these tokens were used in your area years ago and I would be most interested in obtaining some of them for my collection.

I would like to hear from anyone having one or more of these tokens or from anyone that might be able to help me.

Any help you can give me of any kind is greatly appreciated. I now live in South Dakota and my address is: P.O. Box 1573, Sioux Falls, SD 57101.

Church-state separation

To the Editor:

There are several reasons for the separation of church and state, but some more recent ones have come to light.

The women's division of the United Methodist Church is financing a drive to register prisoners to vote and the Democrat Party also is supporting this effort. The ones on death row would love to vote for an anti-capital punishment candidate.

The National Council of Churches has praised Cuba and at the same time denounced the U.S.

The World Council of Churches gives money to Marxist terrorist groups in Africa.

The Methodist Board of Global Ministries gives money to several groups promoting the cause of Communist Cuba.

The National Council of Churches and the Methodist Church back the P.L.O. and its support groups in America with talk and money.

Proud of students

To the Editor:

This is an open letter to all the students in the Westwood Community School District who, it seems, have gone out of their way to make us so very proud of them this academic year.

I would like to present a verbal "Bouquet of Roses" to each of our students, with a priceless orchid nestled within the greenery, for the pride, dedication, loyalty and educational progress they have shown in the past semester.

Our football team was out of sight; our aspiring actors were inspiring in their production "Grease"; the Spelling Bee was fantastic and the startling upward bound of our student's testing scores in the M.E.A.P. area at the Thorne School was mind-boggling. I have also received telephone calls from several agencies and educational programs where some of our students represented the district and was told that our students were the epitome of graciousness, well spoken and thoroughly involved in all of the sessions which were held.

As Vice-President of the Board of Education, I am so sorry that I am unable to attend all the functions involving our students, however, the pride I have in them has my heartstrings bursting at the seams. It is an honor and a privilege to spend the long, hard hours on the Board of Education for students who have brought so many accolades to our District. God bless each of you.

Opposes closing

To the Editor:

As an elected official whose responsibilities include the welfare and safety of 25,000 people who reside in the City of Romulus, I am gravely concerned about the recent events that signal the closing of Wayne County General Hospital.

The people of Romulus live in a community that has within its boundaries an international airport, two busy expressways and two railroads which in their daily activities, jeopardize and effect the welfare if not the very lives of the people who live under and beside these important regional facilities.

In 1983, the City of Romulus, in recognition of the potential of eminent, wide-spread disaster, began to develop an emergency preparedness program. Integral and essential to that plan is the Wayne County Hospital facility which in the event of a serious incident, would be the only facility with the staff and capability to render the kinds of services that would be essential.

Any plan to eliminate this facility that is vital to the welfare of the people of the Community that I represent as well as the traveling public is unconscionable.

As the Mayor of the City of Romulus, I protest the closing of the Wayne County General Hospital in the name of the people of Romulus and the thousands of people who travel and depend upon the integrity of those who represent them to provide for their safety.

Pedestrian upset

To the Editor:

Having experienced a sinister sort of happening while walking north on Wayne Road on the evening 6-7-84, I must ask the following questions:

Must grown-ups, sidewalk pedestrians, be continually harassed by bellicose youth on bicycles in the city of Wayne? Is there no law for bicycles? Must pedestrians be forced to submit to continual buzzing, crowding, even being ran into by half-raised youth in our great city of Wayne?

M. ABDUL-AZEEZ

No to closing

To the Editor

I cannot make this too short, as it involves a lot of people. Their health and welfare are on the Lucas line. He can come up with nothing to save W.C.G.H.?

How about some of the high officials taking some wage cuts? They live very high off the taxpayers' money! They get raises not cuts. We get cuts, and more taxes.

Thank goodness for Judge Ryan! He did stop the closing of the hospital, for a little while.

While we are at it, why not have a lottery for some good health care. Keep the Hospital open! We need it.

My child was refused at Annapolis. No insurance, and no $700 to give to them. She had appendicitis. She could have died, if Wayne County Hospital hadn't admitted her.

We want our hospital. We want to keep our good Doctors, and specialists! Give them the tax money, that we pay for. A community hospital, which will not let you in, without money.

I'll be at the polls, when Mr. Lucas runs again, and I'm sure a lot of others, he's trying to put out of work, will be too.

Fr. Walter celebrates anniversary

Father Walter Lezuchowski, Pastor of St. Aloysius Church in Romulus, celebrated his 25th anniversary of his ordination with the parishioners of St. Aloysius at 6 p.m. Mass on Saturday, June 9, with cake and a wonderful gift — a trip to Vatican City. Earlier this month Archbishop Edmund Szoka celebrated Father Walter's 25th anniversary during a special mass.

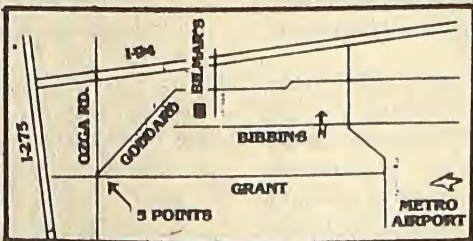

Father Walter came to St. Aloysius Church about three years ago from Our Lady Queen of Apostles where he was associate Pastor. Father Walter studied at St. Mary's College in Orchard Lake and earned a master's degree in Theology from St. John's Provincial Seminary. He also served as Associate Pastor at St. Stanislaus of Detroit.

The surprise trip is an all expense paid trip through Europe which includes a stop at the Vatican City. The gifts of money, for the trip to Europe shows love and appreciation the parishioners of St. Aloysius have for their Pastor.

50 YEARS OF SERVICE

FOOD FOR THOUGHT By John Drimble

Must have some confectioner's sugar? Place 1 cup granulated sugar and 1 Tbs. cornstarch in your blender and buzz until powdery.

Russian-style version of fettucini Alfredo joins fresh green noodles with strips of smoked salmon and a little caviar, plus cream and butter. Cheese sauce is seasoned with onion and garlic and spiked with vodka.

Take green beans out of the ordinary. Heat steamed beans with a tangy vinaigrette dressing made with plenty of garlic and parsley and some Dijon-style mustard.

For health and palatability, use beef roasts in your freezer within 6 to 12 months, lamb or veal within 6 to 9 months. Pork roast shouldn't be held more than 3 to 6 months.

Favorite recipe for fried chicken calls for dipping serving-size pieces in egg mixed with 1 Tbs. oil, then coating with cornmeal. Deep-fry in oil at 350°.

Our favorite recipe? We won't tell HOW our cooks make such wonderful dishes, come see. We're sure you'll love dinner at Captain Nemo's.

Norow--McDaniel marry

One hundred guests were in attendance for the April 28 nuptial of Michelle Anne Norow of Westland and Frank R. McDaniel of Wayne.

Baskets of and vases of white and multi-colored roses decorated Fairhaven Baptist Church in Westland for the ceremony, which was officiated by Rev. Paul Heady.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Norow of Westland, while the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy A. Smith of Wayne and Mr. and Mrs. L.F. McDaniel of Belleville.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank McDaniel

The bride chose a floor-length gown of white lace over satin. The bodice was in the Victorian style with a V-shaped panel of unlined white lace and a ruffled edge. A high ruffle collar accented the neckline, and the wrist-length sleeves were made of lace. A satin sash accented the waist and the three tiers of lace that covered the white satin skirt.

The bride also wore a white picture hat with an elbow length veil and carried a bouquet of white carnations with shades of pink roses, baby's breath and pink satin ribbon streamers.

She asked childhood friend Nancy Ann Rieberger of Okemos to serve as her maid of honor. She wore a mauve-colored floor-length dress of satin, with an A-line skirt. Her headpiece was pink roses, and her bouquet included white and pink carnations, baby's breath and pink satin ribbon streamers.

The groom asked his best friend, Michael Rieberger, also of Okemos, to serve as his best man.

Mrs. Norow chose a floor-length beige gown with empire waist for the afternoon ceremony. Her corsage was made up of pink carnations, baby's breath and pink baby roses. Her corsage included pink carnations, baby's breath and pink roses.

A reception for the newlyweds was held at the Masonic Temple in Belleville. The rehearsal dinner was held at the home of the groom's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Sandy Bennett of Canton Township.

The couple honeymooned en route to Sheppard Air Force Base in Wichita Falls, Tex., where the groom is completing training before being assigned to a permanent Air Force duty station.

The new Mrs. McDaniel is a 1984 graduate of John Glenn High School. She was employed as a teller at the Wayne branch of Wayne Bank. Her husband is a 1984 graduate of Belleville High School. A member of the U.S. Air Force, he took his basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, and was assigned to Keesler Air Force Base, Mississippi, for electronic computer switching systems training, before his assignment at Sheppard Air Force Base.

Officiating at the candlelight service, witnessed by more than 100 guests, was Mr. C. John Fisher. Music for the service was provided by Tony Giamanco, and solist Kimberly Kelley sang for her parents and guests. Mrs. Kelley was attended by her daughters, Linda Kelley, Kimberly Kelley and Joan Kelley. She was escorted down the aisle by her son, Robert Kelley, who also acted as best man for his father. Assuming the duties of usher was Ronald Witkowski of Wayne. Special out-of-state guests included Madelyn B. NON-CUSTODIAL FATHER WANTS TO KEEP IN TOUCH WITH HIS DAUGHTER.

Dear Letter Writer:

I have been married twice and have children from both marriages. For a lot of complicated reasons, my daughter, P, is living with her aunt in Indiana. I haven't seen or talked with her for several years. Recently, P's aunt wrote a letter to me indicating that my daughter didn't believe that I really cared about her. I can understand how she would feel this way, but I want you to help me write a letter to her telling her that this isn't true. I had a serious drinking problem at one time, but that is over now. Please help me express my feelings to my daughter.

Sincerely, MV

Dear Daughter:

I received your Aunt's letter and I am writing as it is very important for me to tell you how much I love and miss you. P, you are my first born child and are very, very special to me.

Your aunt filled me in on lots of things that are going on in your life. From the picture she sent, I can see that you are a very lovely and attractive young lady. I am very proud of you and wish only that we could be together more. My heart, prayers and thoughts are always with you.

I am working from 76 to 116 hours a week, which doesn't leave me much time for anything else. My house was broken into and many things were stolen. This robbery resulted in my losing a considerable amount of money. I am telling you these things only by way of explanation as to why I have not written. I am not telling you these things for sympathy. I am fine, happy and in good health.

Honey, it seems impossible that you will be graduating from high school in one year. This is an important milestone in your life, and I will do anything within my power to help you celebrate. Your aunt wants to throw a party for you. I think this is a wonderful idea. I will help in any way that I can with your other expenses like school pictures, cap and gown and anything else that may come up. I am proud and pleased with the way you have grown up. Believe me, unless something happens over which I have no control, I will be there to see you on your special day with bells on my toes. I wouldn't miss seeing you graduate for anything in the world.

I would love to have you visit with me this summer. It would be wonderful to see you and talk and get to know you better. Please write and let me know when you want to come and I will drive down and pick you up. We can do lots of fun things together and have a great time.

Honey, I know you are having some female problems. This is a personal subject and

One of summer's worst pests is lurking in this room.

Hot, humid air.

When summer temperatures soar, a perennial pest moves into your home for the season. Hot summer air.

Fortunately, there's the heat pump—the air conditioning system that gets rid of hot summer air and helps you save money.

Because the heat pump is a dual-purpose system, it's better than central air conditioning. The heat pump moves heat out of your house in summer, so you stay cool, and into your house during cold weather, so you save on fuel.

And you'll save on energy costs the year round. Call Detroit Edison for a list of qualified heat pump dealers. It's a smart way to take the heat off your home—and your budget.

The Working Channel

Unemployed get 'around-the-clock' programming

The Detroit area's 223,000 unemployed are soon going to be able to turn on the television to 'around-the-clock, local programming exclusively devoted to their job-hunting, retraining and family survival needs.

But they'll quickly discover that this new cable and microwave dish-received television channel — The Working Channel — doesn't offer television shows you just watch; it offers programming in which you become involved.

— Through live videoconferences, telecast meetings you "join" through your telephone;

— Through involvement in

"Working Circle" networking groups of other job-seekers at any one of the upwards of 100 Working Channel centers being established over the next several months throughout Detroit, Wayne County and southern Oakland and Macomb counties (each plugged into The Working Channel signal by cable in most suburban areas or by microwave receiving dish in non-cabled areas such as Detroit);

— Through taping your own "video resume" for telecast over The Working Channel; and — Through following up on the daily flow of job leads, retraining and family services opportunities communicated over The Working Channel, and delivered by the non-profit consortium that created it — The Communication/Information System for the Unemployed (CISU), made up of just about every government agency, educational institution, community group, labor and business group and human and health services organization in the tri-county area active in serving the needs of the unemployed.

The new television channel — which is available to every cable system in the tri-county area, many of which have already begun arrangements to carry it — will offer eight hours of programming, repeated three times a day.

Four general categories of programming will be offered:

- A daily one-hour, live Working Circle networking show, with videoconferencing;
- As many as four hours a day of live, videoconference programs produced by agencies and organizations to discuss issues or services of value to the unemployed;
- Twelve hours a day of pre-produced training and educational programs, such as a high school equivalency series, shows on job seeking, interviewing techniques, skills training and other educational series of pertinence to the unemployed; and

- A daily one-hour, live news show, called Survival News, will be exclusively directed to the information needs of the unemployed.

Through use of an on-screen character generator, the MESC will also be "publishing" listings of job openings from throughout the area in half-hour segments several times a day. News and information on services, employment and economic trends, gathered by CISU and its participating institutions, will also be periodically character-generated.

Dr. Otto Feinstein, CISU deputy director and director of development for WSU's College of Lifelong Learning, said that while The Working Channel, itself, may be the most visible aspect of the CISU system. The Working Channel community centers and their Working Circle networking groups of unemployed are the "heart of the system."

Under professional staff direction, the Working Circle groups in the centers will "provide that critical human contact, interaction and support without which The Working hard for Dad to write about, however, I thought it might be helpful for you to know that your mother had the same problems. Perhaps it is hereditary. In any event, I certainly support you getting some medical treatment and taking whatever medication the doctor thinks will help relieve your pain and discomfort. With all the new advances in medicine today, there is no reason for you to suffer.

As you can see, I am enclosing a check to help out. In closing, I want you to know and to remember that I love and miss

If there is anything in the world that you need, please let me know and I will do my best to help you get it.

The honor students were chosen from the top 10 percent of each academic class and have completed 12 or more letter-graded hours of on-campus credit during the semester.

John Burcroff of Romulus was among children of alumni of Western Michigan University who took advantage of career option exploration through the university's Alumni Association and the Career Education Council.

The free assessment was designed to help high school-aged students answer such questions as what careers would best utilize their interests and abilities, what major should be pursued on college and if the student is qualified for a particular career.

Janice M. Henderson of Belleville was selected as the 1984 recipient of the Silkworth Award at Cleary College.

The award is presented to four-year and two-year students with the highest grade point average, while attending Cleary.

Henderson is the four-year business general program at the college.

Three Romulus residents achieved placement on the spring quarter Dean's List at Michigan Technological University by earning a grade point average of 3.5 or higher.

Named to the academic honors list were Brian K. Miller, a sophomore majoring in chemical engineering; Jeffrey J. Tyer, a junior majoring in mechanical engineering; and Heidi M. Westlake, a freshman majoring in mechanical engineering.

David Floyd of Romulus was recently honored in the Grace College Awards Chapel as recipient of the James L. Boyer Award in Classical Languages for special achievement in his studies.

Floyd is a 1984 graduate of Grace College with a bachelor of science degree in speech and behavioral science. He is the son of Rev. and Mrs. Robert Floyd, of Riviera Drive, Romulus.

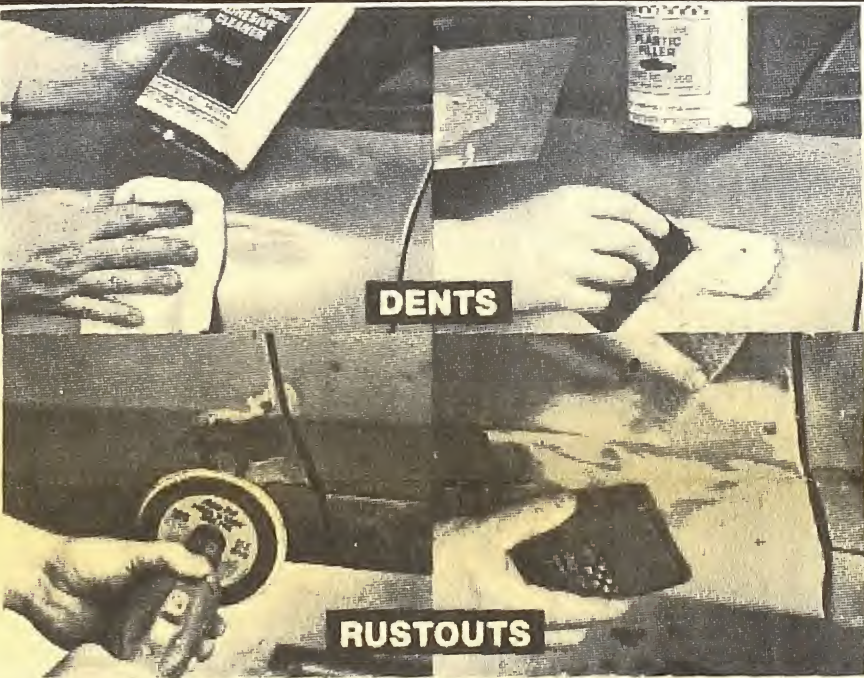

Galen E. Kenyon, a freshman at GMI Engineering & Management Institute in Flint, has been named to the Dean's List for the spring semester. He is the son of Sylvester Kenyon of Belleville.

To be eligible for the Dean's List, he had to attain a weighed grade point average of 92 or higher for the previous semester with no course below 85.

Kenyon is a cooperative student with Hydra-Matic in Ypsilanti.

Romulus resident Herbert Stitner recently received his bachelor of science degree from the University of Wisconsin in Superior, Wis.

His degree was conferred on him during commencement ceremonies May 25.

The Working Channel

Channel programming is only marginally useful.
"The dynamics of the group setting can lead to networking in its fullest sense," he said, "cooperative job searches, vocational and educational counselling, working out of shared problems and concerns, family counselling and referral to any sources of assistance or service that might be of value to the person while he or she is unemployed."

The one thing The Working Channel/CISU system cannot do, Feinstein said, is create jobs.
"But if the system is active,"

Feinstein said, "it makes employment and job creation an ever higher priority for the state."
S. Martin Taylor, director of the MESC and Michigan Department of Labor, talked about the state's job picture in relation to the need for education and training.

Feinstein said that, by the end of June, CISU plans to have at least 50 Working Channel community centers established throughout the area. The Working Channel's 24-hour-a-day programming more fully developed and cable systems throughout the tri-county area offering The Working Channel.

Through the end of this month, CISU is operating under a six-month $450,000 grant from the federal Job Training Partnership Act (JTPA). Application for continued funding is now in process, he said.

While The Working Channel and its extensive support system was conceived and is being developed locally, Feinstein said the Detroit area is not alone in its interest in the new system for the unemployed. The Working Channel is already being monitored by other areas in Michigan and around the country for possible replication.

Feinstein added that planning is now underway for the development of local versions of the CISU model in areas throughout the state, sharing programming and the benefit of the CISU Detroit-area prototype's experience.

In the Detroit area, the location of the nearest Working Channel community center and when it will be starting later this month can be learned by calling The Working Channel offices during business hours at 577-4203.
The unemployed in cabled suburban communities should call their local cable systems to find out when The Working Channel will be offered in their communities.

The Sports Meridian

2 bright, young stars

TOM MOORADIAN Sports Editor

Before the 1983-84 high school sports season fades into history and before the end of this week brings summer recess to the thousands of young students who will leave only but memories behind in the classrooms, let's mark the occasion to urge sports fans to support two big events:

On Friday, June 15, the Basketball Coaches Association of Michigan (BCAM) will put on its annual All-Star Festival. That festival will bring together some of the finest, if not the finest boys and girls cage talent, this state has to offer.

In the line-up of Friday's game will be none other than Romulus High senior, Grant Long, a nephew of former Romulus cage great, Johnny Long. The 6-7 Grant Long was selected by the BCAM coaches to play on the Class "A" East All-Star team which will take on the West team at Read Fieldhouse at Western Michigan University.

Long, who was instrumental in leading Coach Al Wilkerson's Eagles to a Class A District Basketball Championship, will join such renowned players as the BCAM's "Mr. Basketball" for 1983, Demetreus Gore. Gore, who wore Detroit Chadey's jersey last season, led the Public School League for the second straight year with a 33-point scoring average.

Hope you can make it to Western Michigan on Friday.

Another local athlete, Keith Riling, will also don an "All-Star" uniform and will be in the limelight as a member of the Michigan High School Baseball Coaches Association team.

Riling, a senior at Belleville High School, was picked by the coaches as an All-Star outfielder after hitting .392 for Coach Tom Fielder's Tigers. He had 29 hits in 74-at bats which includes 12 RBIs, four doubles and three triples.

"For Keith to make this team (The MHSBA All-Stars) after we had such a poor season," Fielder noted, "is a credit to his ability. He is only one of two who played in the Adray League, one of the toughest around, last season."

Riling will be in the Michigan All-Star Game line-up scheduled to be played at 7 p.m., June 25 at Kyte Field in Monroe. From that game will be selected a team from Michigan that will play its counterparts from Illinois at noon on Wed., June 27, at Detroit Tiger Stadium.

"Our school has produced a lot of outstanding players," Fielder said, "but I don't know of any who is or was of Riling's caliber. He is definitely one of the finest ball players this school has produced in many years."

Belleville 2-away from unprecedented 2nd state crown

By TOM MOORADIAN ANP Staff Writer

Belleville High, the defending Class A state girls' softball champs, is two victories away from making history. If Coach Peggy Curtis' Tigers can win their next two games they will have captured their second successive state title, the first girls' team ever to repeat as state softball champs.

Belleville will meet Bay City Central at 5:30 p.m. on Friday in the semi-final round of the state playoffs. The winner will advance to the state championship scheduled for 5:30 p.m. on Saturday against the winner of the Mt. Clemens L'Anse Creuse North and Portage Central game.

Both the state semi-finals and the state championship will be played in Midland.

"Whenever a team comes this far there is going to be a lot of pressure on the players," Coach Curtis said. "Fortunately, we have been there and we know how it is. To win, we're going to have to keep playing defense the way we have been and getting the hits where and when we can."

The Tigers, now 24-9, rode senior hurler, Judy Wisniewski's arm to the state finals. Wisniewski shut out Hazel Park 4-0 in the semi-final round of the regional finals, then buried Redford Bishop Borgess 9-0 to win the regional championship.

Bishop Borgess qualified for the regional championship round by edging Westland John Glenn 5-4 in the semis.

Against Hazel Park, Judy chalked up three strikeouts, walked none and scattered three hits. Her teammates supported her with two runs in the first inning, then came back for two more in the sixth.

In the opening frame, Jo Pence got things going as she walked off of losing pitcher Jane Crane, then proceeded to steal second. She was moved to third on Tina Cicotte's sacrifice and scored when Crane unleashed a wild pitch. Cicotte who moved to second on the wild throw eventually scored on Debbie Sumner's single.

The Tigers added the pair of insurance runs in the sixth on a single by Michele LaMance, a pair of errors that put Melissa Stafford and Tammy Richard aboard and Judy Wisniewski's two-run base hit.

Wisniewski was never in any serious trouble, although Hazel Park managed to get a base runner on third in the second inning with two away. She erased the threat by getting Judy Avery to pop up to LaMance for the third out.

Although Bishop Borgess hurler, Diane Rzepka held Belleville to two hits, five Borgess errors and 10 bases on balls led to her demise.

Belleville got all the runs it needed in the first inning when Cicotte walked, stole second, was bunted to third, and

Dun Rovin to host city golf championship

By TOM MOORADIAN ANP Staff Writer

It was the year 1979, and the American hostages were still waiting to be freed in Iran... and Poland was on the verge of revolt. The U.S. was ready to boycott the Moscow Olympics and interest rates were soaring near the 20 percent mark.

In that historic year of 1979, Wayne's Tom Piscopink won an unprecedented fourth City Championship Golf Tournament at Dun Rovin Golf Course.

And, for only the second time in its 25th history, the prestigious City Championship tournament will return to the Plymouth course.

"We have invited all of the past medalists to compete this year," said William Hawley, tournament co-chairmen. "And I believe that this year's tournament will equal those in the past, when it comes to excitement and competition."

The tournament will be staged on the 6,750-yard, par 72 Dun Rovin course on Saturday and Sunday, July 21 and July 22. Amateur men golfers from the cities of Wayne, Westland, Garden City, Romulus, Inkster and from Canton Township are invited to compete for the city championships of their respective cities.

"The course is in excellent condition. In fact, it is in the best condition it has been," said Rich Cummins, owner. "We are looking forward to hosting the tournament."

Competitors will compete for separate city championships, playing 18 holes on Saturday (July 21) and returning for the final 18 on Sunday (July 22). The low five scorers from each of the cities will be eligible to play on their city (or township) team in the State Recreation Golf

Caesar's upsets 'A' Romulus softball leader

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

An unheralded Little Caesar's softball team, limping along on a 2-3 won-lost record, earned consideration as the team to watch as it handed the previously undefeated Fighting Flirts its first setback of the 1984 Romulus Class A campaign.

Caesar's posted two runs in the fifth and sixth innings and held off the league-leader, 5-3. The loss snapped the Fighting Flirts' winning streak at five games.

Vicki Frost went the distance, pitching a nine-hitter to chalk up the victory, while Patty Kalasc collected three hits for the winners. Janis Coleman, who was charged with the loss, belted two singles. Teammates Anita Glaab and Brenda Kryzske chipped in with three and two hits, respectively.

In other Class A women's action, Walter's Bar rallied for nine runs in the bottom of the fifth to tie Century 21. The score remained at 9-all at the end of regulation play and each team went away with one-point. Karen Gill and Linda Grimm each had two runs batted in, while Cindy Griffin collected two hits for Walter's.

Little Caesar's pounded out 11 hits, three of those by Sue Fitzpatrick en route to a 6-1 victory over J & D Auto. Gina Maiani slashed a two-run single off of losing hurler Kathy Geran who had a run-scoring single off of Coleman.

The Flirts struck for four runs in the top of the third to edge Middlebelt Bar 4-2 to pick up its fifth victory. Losing pitcher Marilyn Much yielded a pair of hits, including a double to Paula Stechultess and a run-scoring single to Nancy Wisniewski. Kim Beckley was the winning pitcher.

Century 21, behind Peggy Wegienka's two-hit pitching, posted a rare 3-0 shutout over J & D Auto. Joyce Eathorne and Debbie Moomaw spoiled Wegienka's bid for a no-hitter. Each had singles. Leading Century's assault on loser Kathy Grenan was Michele Goins who latched on to three hits while Stella Harman had two.

Middlebelt buried Walter's Bar 20-1 as Alice Lepper and Kathy Boatright each had two hits for the losers. Dee Dee Coppeck laced three singles and Linda Bodimowski carded two singles for the winners.

Middlebelt Bar however turned back a determined Angies 10-5 as Shari Esper scattered nine hits for the victory. Connie Wyszynski stroked a two-run single for the losers while Linda Moore collected a single and double and two RBI's and Linda Dyer had three singles and two RBIs for the winners. Robin Marken also helped the winners with a two-run triple.

Waligiski Roofing and Coughlin Transportation settled for a 9-all tie after Waligiski blew an 8-0 lead. Scoring five times in the first and three more in the second frame, Waligiski couldn't hold off Coughlin's which came back for three runs in each of the second and third frames. After Waligiski again gained a 9-6 lead for four innings, Coughlin's retaliated with two runs in the bottom of the fifth and the game's tying run in the sixth. Vicki Brainard and Lori Hadynaick accounted for four of the roofer's 15 hits and five of their nine runs. Shawn Howie was tagged for 14 hits, three by Dawn Will and two apiece by Cheryl Michling and Carol Plave. Sue Evitts gave up 15 hits to the roofers.

Suburban Oil struck for four runs in the initial frame then came back for six more in the second to pile up a 10-1 lead before All-Around Lounge countered with two in the six after putting four runs on the scoreboard in the fifth and losing 10-7 to their Class B rivals. Lynne Carbone and Pat Gores each had two hits and were joined by Cindy Cox in driving home two runs apiece. Cox, the winning pitcher, gave up a triple and three RBI's to Becky Pare and Dianna Summerfield, the losing pitcher, checked in with two RBIs.

B & F Hustler collected 15 hits while Carol Minda scattered eight hits in their 12-0 pastings of Bilmar's. Colleen Wagoi led the winners at the plate as she hammered a homer and added three singles. Mates Debbie Reno checked in with two hits and three RBIs while Doreen Losacco had a double and two RBIs.

Lisa White smacked a single and double for the losers who used Cindi Brant on the mound.

Tournament which is usually played in September. All other golfers will become alternates for the city team in order of their finish.

Only bona fide residents may represent a city on the team in state tournament play.

Trophies and prizes will be awarded. Trophies will be presented to the top three finishers in each flight and an additional trophy will be awarded to the individual low scorer of the entire field (medalist). Additional flights will be created only if the total entry from a city warrants it.

In case of a tie for a trophy, a "sudden death" playoff will be conducted to determine the winner.

The check and the registration form accompanying this story should be mailed to The Associated Newspapers, P.O. 578 Wayne, Michigan 48184, or dropped off at the Associated Newspapers' offices' Sports Desk, 35540 Michigan Ave., Wayne.

more runs in the fifth to grab the lead for good. It added three insurance runs in the sixth inning.

Mike Rakotz drilled a triple and a single and Pete Reno collected two hits for the winners while Rob Zarros had a single and a double for the losers.

Mad Anthony's roared back to humiliate Shell Oil, 18-0, as Ken Laskaska pitched six innings of scoreless ball after giving up two runs in the opening frame. Brian Preston homered and singled to account for three RBI's. Ron Zarras had two singles for the winners.

Mark Emery's two hits paced the losers.

Nemo's exploded for 11 runs in the second inning and coasted to a 17-1 victory over RJ Party Store as Norm Kent belted in four runs with a single and double. Don McMann also had two hits. Ron Buckley and Mike Collins split six RBIs.

Collins, the winning pitcher, missed a shutout when John Young sliced a single to drive in RJ's lone run in the second inning.

Greg's Emergency Room came up with four runs in the bottom of the third to top Ramada Inn 7-2. John Schwargere tripled in one run and Jim Hensley counted two RBI's for his single. Winning pitcher Dwayne Ascherman gave up 11 hits, three of them to Kevin Collins.

Kerr Sybron won its third in five starts at the expense of last place Picklebarrel 15-5 as Bill Musser homered and singled for the winners, Gary Bell collected three hits and Greg Perkey and Dave Jacer each had two hits for Kerr's.

Adam Holinski slammed a pair of singles and drove in two runs for the losers.

GDYBA honors local bowlers

The Greater Detroit Youth Bowling Association and the Young American Bowling Association recently presented awards to Wayne bowlers for their outstanding performances during the past season.

Recipients of the accolades went to Ron Paddock, Wendy King, Frank King, Steve Summers and Scott Pennington who combined for a 2,537 total in the Mixed Division Class A for the first place trophy.

The Mixed Division Class A First Place team is made up of four boys and a girl whose averages range from 140 to 168. All bowl in the Saturday Morning Teen-age League at the Wayne Bowl and are sponsored by the Wayne Bowl in the Sunday Morning Western Wayne Youth Traveling League.

Wayne also garnered a second place thanks to Valerie Johnson, Matt Morton, Monika Benedict, Pam Young and Larry Smith who posted a 2,515. The second place team also is sponsored by Wayne Bowl.

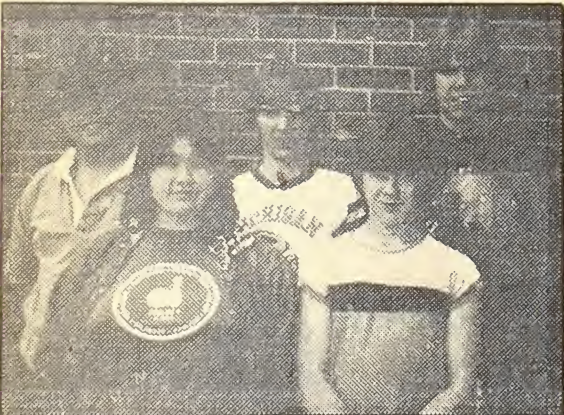

The first and second place teams beat out 45 other entries in order to capture top and runner-up honors.

Tom Boner, a very strong lefthander, and Mark Damron, an accurate righthander, teamed up to out bowl 25 other competitors in the Double Class B category to capture the championship. Boner also bowled so well that he placed second in All-Events.

Mark placed third in the All-Events Division while Matt Morton placed fifth.

The Wayne Rough Riders, whose line-up includes Dennis Spikes, Mark Damron, Mark Laich, Tom Boner, Brian McMillan placed third in Class C with a 1,928 total.

The YABA and GDYBA also announced that Scott Pennington and Tom Boner were named to the All-Association teams. Pennington was picked to represent the area on the Class A elite squad while Boner was named as co-captain on the Class C team. Each received a gold medallion with their names and the year engraved on the back.

stole home. The Tigers made it 4-0 with a 3-run third inning thanks to Jill Pence, who was safe on an error, stole second and third. Cicotte walked then Sumner singled, followed by an error and LaMance's sacrifice fly.

The Tigers capped the victory with a 5-run fourth inning to capture their second consecutive regional title and qualify for the state semi-final round.

"We're very proud of this team," Curtis said. "All season long they've come through when the heat has been on. Needless to say whatever happens in Midland these kids have already won the hearts of this school and our community."

New entertainment concept featured in Belleville

By EVE SILBERMAN
ANP Staff Writer

Owners Phil and Pam Brigandi call the Brass Connection a "complete type of dining and entertainment experience that Belleville's never had."

"It's a new concept for Belleville, but Belleville's ready for it," says Phil Brigandi.

The Brass Connection is located in the same building (although with separate entrances) as the Brigandi's popular Brass Belle restaurant. Previously, the Brass Connection space was rented out as a banquet hall.)

Though the Connection opened for business in March, grand opening celebrations are planned for Saturday, June 23 during the heart of Strawberry Festival goings-on. Festivities will start at about 2 p.m.

With recently obtained liquor and entertainment licenses, and what the couple describes as the "largest dance floor in the area" (3200 square feet), the Brigandi's hope to attract some younger winers and diners to the downtown restaurant (located in the Belle mall shopping center).

But the couple stresses that the restaurant will retain its "family atmosphere."

"We want to keep the same customers who've been coming here for years," says Pam Brigandi. "We want the Brass Connection to be a place where anyone — couples, single couple — can go to eat, drink, and dance without being hassled. There won't be any topless dancers here."

Current plans call for live entertainment Wednesday through Saturday nights, 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Sunday night will be movie night at the Connection. With a 10-foot movie screen beaming shows through satellite, Connection customers can enjoy recent, popular attractions like "Silkwood" and "Scarface."

Brass light fixtures and brass musical instruments grace the walls, echoing the decoration theme of the Brass Belle restaurant. In addition to the bar area, customers can watch the dancing in a semi-private, "raised" area.

Until late evening, Connection customers can order the same bill of fare as they'd receive in the restaurant. After 11 p.m., an assortment of "finger foods" (breaded chicken livers, fried mozzarella, potato skins) is available, from $1.50 to $3.25.

Meanwhile, the Brass Belle (also scheduled for minor cosmetic surgery) continues a tradition of reasonably priced breakfasts, lunches, and dinners to families and business crowds.

The Brass Connection is open from 11 a.m. to 2 a.m., Monday through Saturday, and from 12 p.m. to 12 a.m. on Sunday. The Brass Belle's hours are 7 a.m. to 10 p.m., Monday through Thursday, and from 7 a.m. to 11 p.m. Friday and Saturday, Sunday hours are 8 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Directions to the Brass Connection - Belle and Brass: take I-94 to the Belleville exit. Go down Belleville Road to Main Street, and veer right on Sumpster Road. The restaurant is in the Belle Plaza Shopping Center, about two miles from the I-94 exit.

HOW TO INSURE THAT SEAT BELT USE WILL SAVE MORE LIVES.

START WITH $10,000 WORTH OF INSURANCE FOR SEAT BELT USERS.

Seat belts help save lives. They can reduce both the incidence and severity of injuries sustained in automobile accidents.

Yet in the United States rarely more than 15 percent of the people on the road use seat belts. General Motors has been trying to find ways to improve that percentage. One way is to provide a significant incentive for people to wear their seat belts.

Seat belt user insurance at no extra cost. Every new GM car or light truck equipped with GM seat belts and delivered by a GM dealer in the U.S. comes with a certificate of seat belt user insurance for the driver and any passengers.

For one full year after the first registration of the vehicle, any permissive occupant wearing a seat belt will be insured for $10,000 against sustaining fatal injuries in an accident. The protection is valid in any accident in the United States, its territories and possessions and Canada, as long as the seat belt or child restraint system involved is properly used.

This one-year, $10,000 coverage is being provided by MIC General, a subsidiary of Motors Insurance Corporation—the insurance people from GM. If any vehicle owner should want to purchase comparable insurance beyond the first year, MIC General will also pro-

It's a new way of looking at seat belts. So from now on GM will be referring to these insurance-covered systems as "Life Belts."

If people who never thought to buckle up seat belts think to buckle their GM Life Belts, this insurance program will pay off by saving lives.

For years General Motors has been equipping its cars and light trucks with seat belt systems that are both comfortable to wear and easy to use. GM has made it company policy for GM employees in GM-owned vehicles to wear seat belts. And GM has promoted seat belt use to the general public in messages like this one.

what's that sound?
... by steve o'leary

The black and white of it

RANK AND FILE
"Long Gone Dead"
VIOLENT FEMMES
"Hallowed Ground"
(Slash/Warner Bros.)

These two groups have much in common; both come from the "punk" scene still very prevalent on the west coast. Both groups make good use of their country & western roots and both are signed to Slash Records, a basically hardcore label picked up by Warner Bros. last year for distribution. But that's where the similarities stop.

Rank and File have, on their second album, refined their countrish sound that seemed a bit brash on their debut LP, "Sundown." As a matter of fact, "Long Gone Dead" bears more similarities to Fleetwood Mac at their best than to anything else that has come out of the L.A. punk scene.

That wasn't an insult; it's just that the record is so easily accessible it seems destined for hit radio. And, believe it or not, the sound on songs such as the title cut and "I'm An Old, Old Man" has the same ringing production sound that Lindsey Buckingham took to Fleetwood Mac and has displayed on his solo albums.

In effect, "Long Gone Dead" is an album of bright, cheerful sounds just made for listening to while driving around on a sunny summer day.

On the flip side of the coin, there's the Violent Femmes. In contrast to the six-man full sound of Rank & File, the Femmes are a stark three-piece featuring an acoustic bass guitar and a drummer who puts a pail over his snare drum.

They too show a marked country influence, except instead of a good-time hoedown, the music here is more akin to a psychotic escapade through the southwest.

Case in point, the album's opening tune, "Country Death Song." While the bassist plays a routine country two-step, guitarist/vocalist Gordon Gano tells a story of a man who "swears (he) lost his mind," and that's when he "started makin' plans to kill my own kind."

Anyway, as you, the listener sits riveted to the song, the singer (in vivid detail) goes on about how he tricked his little daughter into "playing" on the caves near the house: "Kiss your mother goodnight/ and remember that God saves," he sings, then stuns us with "I gave her a push/ I gave her a shove/ I pushed with all my might/ I pushed with all my love/ I threw my child into a bottomless pit/ She was screamin' as she fell/ But I never heard her hit". Whew. Gano's vocals, which sound like a person on a razor's edge to begin with, make this a much more effective song than anything on Springsteen's "Nebraska" album, which followed a similar concept.

At the song's end, we're shocked again by the intensity of Gano's singing as he croons "Don't speak to me of lovers with a broken heart/ You wanna know what will really/ Tear you apart/ I'm going out to the barn with a never-stoppin' pain/ I'm going out to the barn/ To hang myself in shame."

Intensity is the password here, and Gano and crew live up to the first word of their name in spades, because violence rears its ugly head often on the album, as does religion, even on the seemingly straight gospel song "Jesus Walking On the Water." One keeps waiting for the lyrics to turn cynical, but they never do. Face it, these guys are schizophrenics in the first degree. But interesting ones. NOT recommended for the faint of heart.
